Greetings Warren:

Solar activity is rising fast. The ionosphere has become opaque to cosmic static at two megacycles. My observations here have come to an end. The results are rather better than expected and are being organized for publication in a scientific journal. Now I am cleaning up my affairs preparatory to returning to N.Y.C.

I have found the Reiss microphone we discussed when I saw you last. If you are still interested I will send it by sea parcel post marked "Obsolete Microphone, No Commercial Value, Gift". This should get it past customs without further bother. Perhaps it would assist if I sent it to you at your office. If so, please give me your office address.

My plan is to travel to NYC via Vancouver and Penticton, B.C. If convenient, I would like to stop in Seattle to see you and go over old times and new. My plans are still not rigid. Would the 29th and 30th May be suitable, or are you going on vacation? If the science pavilion at Seattle Fair is still operating, I may wish to see the latest exhibits.

Best regards,

Grote
