Dear Dr. Everitt:

A couple of months ago I wrote to you regarding the possibilities of future research on the subject of Cosmic Static. I am wondering what, if any, interest in this subject you have been able to uncover.

Last september President Truman delivered a message to congress in which he urged, as point two, the establishment of a Federal research agency to promote and support research in the basic sciences. While it is probably much too early to expect any aid from such source, I am wondering in what category this work, of interest to me, could fit. In any case I would greatly appreciate learning of anyone who is interested in this type of investigation with an eye to obtaining future backing.

I will be pleased to hear your comments.

Yours very truly,

Grote Reber
